

Dedicated to undergraduate education and research
in marine science since 1966

FORENSIC SCIENCE FOR WILDLIFE BIOLOGISTS

SUMMER OPTION FOR VET STUDENTS!!

JUNE 28 – JULY 5, 2010***

*5-day non-credit option also available for $950/person.

VTMED 6435: 2 credits

PREREQS: 2 semesters of college level biology or equivalent.

FACULTY:

Dr. Wayne Lord, University of Central Oklahoma

Dr. Romona Haebler, USEPA

Dr. Robert D. Kenney, URI

Dr. William C. Rodriguez, Armed Forces Institute of Pathology

Dr. Inga F. Sidor, Senior Veterinary Pathologist, UNH

Dr. Mark Pokras, Tufts University

COURSE DESCRIPTION: (also see: http://www.sml.cornell.edu/sml\_cc\_fsmb.html)

Strong emphasis on functional learning. FSWB participants receive comprehensive instruction in the recognition, documentation, collection, and preservation of physical evidence. FSWB provides a unique opportunity to develop practical incident response, scene management, and forensic teamwork skills via participation in realistic, marine-oriented crime scene exercises.

CONTACT: shoals-lab@cornell.edu

www.sml.cornell.edu

Cornell University

UNIVERSITY of NEW HAMPSHIRE